

Winning Streak in China

Mumbai, Sep 7, 2009 – Recently EsseL Propack’s subsidiaries in China (EP China) have been able to renew long term contract with a leading FMCG player. Also it has been awarded an additional big volume business by same customer from our competitors because of its exemplary performance with the customer. With another leading FMCG player EP China has signed an exclusive long term contract whereby, customer has built the factory building and leased the facility to it for running the tube plant for their orders. Additionally EP China is free to supply tubes to any other customer from this plant. This will help EP China to tap new business in north of China.

The total volume involved in these three contracts is approximately 600 million tubes per year.

These contracts with two leading FMCG players will substantially improve the profitability of EP China in coming years. The faith of these two big FMCG players has reaffirmed the capability and leadership position of EP China in Chinese tube market.
