India, Vietnam to gain from 'China+1': Nomura

Bets big on RIL, BEL and Exide stocks

PUNEET WADHWA New Delhi, 28 May

ndia and Vietnam are likely to be the two biggest beneficiar-Lies in Asia of the 'China+1' strategy adopted by international companies to build new manufacturing units outside the People's Republic of China, according to a report by Nomura.

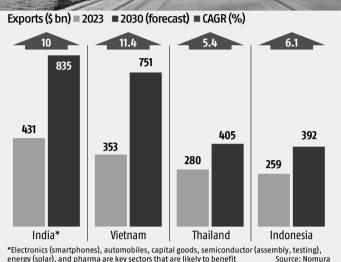

They expect India's exports to rise from $431 billion in 2023 to $835 billion by 2030, a compounded annual rate of growth (CAGR) of 10 per cent. The shift in supply chains away from China has set in motion what economist Kaname Akamatsu called the "wild-geese-flying pattern" of economic growth, where production shifts from the lead goose (advanced nation) to the next flock of geese (developing nations).

China's role in global value chains is changing too, said the research and broking house. It is a lead goose (investor) and most of its investments are in Asean countries. Most investments in India are from the US and developed Asia.

Benefits are likely to accrue for Indian companies in the electronics auto and auto ancillary sectors, according to Nomura. Companies in the electric vehicles (EV) ecosystem, some pharmaceutical /biotech companies and the defence sector are likely to gain too.

"Among these sectors and within the stocks in our coverage universe, we like Reliance Industries, Bharat Electronics, Exide Industries, Sona BLW and Uno Minda," wrote Saion Mukherjee, managing director and head of equity research for India at Nomura, in a recent coauthored note. As corporate capital expenditure (capex) picks up, Indian companies are likely to sustain 12-17 per cent earnings growth in the medium term, "We expect corporate capex and domestic manufacturing to be the key drivers of India's corporate earnings. As manufacturing picks stronger recovery over the mediumterm. Over long-term, the supply chain relocation should lead to an improvement in trade balance and current account deficit. This implies higher value add in India supporting corporate earnings," said Mukherjee.

energy (solar), and pharma are key sectors that are likely to benefit

Vietnam is the frontrunner in the Asean region with most investment originating from Chinese companies interested in automobiles (EVs), electronics (personal computers), energy (solar panels) and other sectors like shipping containers and chemicals. The investments should lift its exports from $353 billion in 2023 to $750 billion by 2030, a CAGR of 11.4 per cent, said Nomura.

Manufacturing-led growth in India will have a rub-off effect on consumption, said Mukherjee. As corporate profitability improves, he and solar supply chains and select up, private capex will record a expected a higher dividend payout that will support consumption and corporate earnings. Strong and sustained earnings growth, and support of domestic flows into equity markets should keep equity valuation multiples elevated. Nomura said.

> The valuation of stocks that are direct beneficiaries of India's capex and manufacturing themes - for instance in the industries and electronic manufacturing services - is high, factoring in strong growth narrative, "Exposure to the overall growth theme can be gained through domestic-focused companies. Our key overweight sectors in India are financials, energy, auto ancillaries, infrastructure, telecom and healthcare," said Mukherjee. While there are benefits from these themes, they will accrue over time and investors need to be patient.

Using private car as cab can lead to claim rejection

SANJAY KUMAR SINGH

Insurance companies are trying to simplify the motor insurance claims process. HDFC ERGO General Insurance recently integrated artificial intelligenceenabled inspection technology into its WhatsApp chatbot. This will allow customers to instantly settle claims for minor damages of up to ₹20,000. Online platform Policybazaar launched a Claim Assurance Programme under which it will provide customers with a dedicated claim manager and vehicle pick-up and towing to network garages. On their part, customers should be mindful of factors that can lead to motor claim rejections and take steps to avoid them.

Reasons for claim denial

If a policyholder files a fraudulent claim to get undue benefits from the policy, the insurer will reject the claim. "If a claim is beyond the policy risk period, the insurer will reject it," says Parthanil Ghosh, director and chief business officer, HDFC ERGO General Insurance.

Motor insurance is sold for specific vehicle categories. "If you buy insurance for a private car, use this car as a cab and then have an accident, your claim will be rejected," says Animesh Das, chief underwriting officer, Acko Insurance.

Driving without even a thirdparty policy can lead to claim rejection. "According to the Motor Vehicles Act, every customer must have a valid thirdparty policy. If a customer files a claim without one, it will be rejected," says Sandeep Saraf, head-motor insurance renewals, claims & customer experience. Policybazaar.com

Vehicles must be driven on public roads in compliance with the Motor Vehicles Act. "Driving a vehicle without registration, driving under the influence of alcohol or without a valid licence can lead to claim rejection," says Ghosh.

Exclusions to be aware of

If a customer owns only a thirdparty policy, damage to their own car will not be covered. "Only damage to the person or property of a third party will be covered," says Saraf.

Customers with a comprehensive policy (third party plus own damage) can also face a few exclusions. "If several parts get damaged in an accident and you own a standard policy, the insurer will apply depreciation to the bill, which means you may have to pay 25-30 per cent out of your own pocket," says Das.

Insurance also does not cover general maintenance and normal wear and tear.

Another exclusion relates to flooding. "If water enters the engine causing a hydrostatic lock, this damage is not covered by a standard policy. It is only covered if you have the engine protect add-on," says Das.

Precautions to exercise

Avoid violating traffic rules. "Ignoring traffic conditions, over-speeding, over-taking, driving on the wrong side, and exceeding seating capacity must be avoided," says Gaurav Arora, head corporate underwriting & claims, ICICI Lombard. He adds that one should be wary of allowing someone, who does not have a valid licence, to drive your car. Saraf says customers must notify the insurer about any incident within 24 to 72 hours.

If you modify the vehicle by installing a CNG kit, inform the insurer. "These modifications should be reflected in the car's registration certificate and reported to the insurer," adds Saraf. Avoid misrepresenting facts. Also, do not attempt to pass off older damages as part of the current claim. Do not get repair work started without informing the insurer as the latter like to carry out end-toend verification of damages and documents before approving a claim. Das cautions against driving the car after it has got damaged. He suggests getting it towed. Arora suggests buying a comprehensive policy with all the relevant add-ons such as road side assistance, return-toinvoice, engine protect, zero depreciation, and so on.
